Brentano Offers a Playful Angle on Luxury

Natural materials, thoughtful lines characterize durable new residential textiles

Wheeling, Ill. (May 2014) — Brentano's spring Discovery collection puts an acute focus on details, like natural materials and thoughtful lines, that introduce luxury for high end interiors without compromising on wearability.

Taking a creative angle on the understated elegance of the Discovery collection, Hill and Dale magnifies a playful chevron to a bold scale. Two different weft yarns, one a textural boucle of polyester, linen and viscose and the other a viscose chenille, define the pattern's canted lines and give the upholstery a natural softness. In eight striking colorways, 54" Hill and Dale effortlessly fits into residential environments but also passes 70,000 double rubs (Wyzenbeek) for contract applications.

About Brentano:

Founded in 1990 by Design Director Iris Wang and her husband, President E-Kwan Chen, Brentano has grown from a modest beginning of eight patterns to an internationally represented textile house. Brentano's fabrics stem from Wang's philosophy of balancing beauty + performance. Their growing collection of eco-fabrics expands this ideology by demanding textiles meet thoroughly researched standards of environmental consciousness while maintaining their beauty. Having celebrated their 20th anniversary in 2010, Brentano continues to offer a variety of innovative and interesting textiles, including eco-friendly faux leather, high performance upholstery, fire-resistant, outdoor, Crypton, Nano-Tex and GreenShield fabrics.
