Brentano Delivers Pattern at the HD Expo

New performance upholstery fabric Equinox wins IIDA/HD Product Design Award

Wheeling, Ill. (May 2015) — Brentano delivered pattern at the Hospitality Design Expo in Las Vegas. Using a dramatic neutral palette, the textile design house demonstrated their skill with texture and motif in an array of new fabrics from the spring Studio collection and upcoming fall Jubilee collection.

Brentano earned a coveted IIDA/HD Product Design Award — Brentano's sixth such award in eight consecutive years — for Equinox, a performance upholstery with a starry, tessellation pattern that undulates from dark to light and back to dark in a metaphor for day and night.

"We always look forward to HD, and winning an IIDA/HD Award is always an honor, but it's especially significant this year. I'm thankful the judges recognized Equinox; but to me, it's also recognition for Iris [Wang, Design Director,] and her milestone 25 years of dedication to hospitality design," said National Sales Manager Jeff Frank.

About Brentano:
