Brentano's Spring Collection Launch Features Bold Patterns and a Dynamic, One-of-a-Kind Polyurethane. Inviting, sophisticated fabrics that are classically beautiful yet unapologetically modern.

Wheeling, IL. (March 2019)— Purity of design and refined craftsmanship are the hallmarks of Brentano's Spring 2019 Sovereign collection. Drawing inspiration from the palettes and textures of historically luxurious textiles, Brentano's design team has pared down and refined iconic patterns and motifs.

Morning Star, a standout pattern within the collection features 8 stunning ombre colorways that capture the warm hues of an early spring sky and the settling tones of a wintry dusk. This handsome look is achieved by framing vibrant threads with rows of float yarns to capture the changing colors. These are then woven to achieve an understated graphic repeat that, when upholstered, reads as a very restrained lightweight check. Eligible to be treated to pass NFPA 701, this gorgeous 54" pattern comes in 8 rich colorways to make an unforgettable statement piece for any residential application or as a striking accent in a hospitality or commercial setting.

New to Brentano, the Sovereign collection features Plateau, Brentano's first exploration of a perforated polyurethane. One-of-a-kind, Plateau reaches new heights for our eco-friendly faux-leathers. Offered in 4 neutral colorways, this 54" width polyurethane fabric uses Brentano's Terrain as a base, adding a subtle and consistent perforation across the whole fabric. A strong, black knit backing offers stability while adding a visual depth to each perforation. Like Terrain, Plateau has an abrasion resistance of 100,000 rubs (Wyzenbeek, Cotton Duck) making it an informed choice within a distinct, avant-garde interior.
